DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-2, 4, 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by "Stone Tools" article. Note that some of the ax heads were made of greenstone.

Claims 1-2, 4, 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by "Tools of the East" article. The ax heads were made from tektites.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-5, 7-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Frost in view of Bregler et al. Bregler shows the use of ferrite-perlite steel. It is mentioned by Bregler that the properties of such material is well known. Thus an artisan would know the properties and the requirements of the article to be made. It thus would have been obvious for an artisan to specify such material for a razor blade.

Art Unit: 3724

Claims 1-2, 4, 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Futterer et al in view of Bregler et al. The rational here is the same as set forth in the previous paragraph.

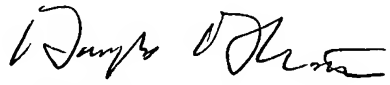

Claims 1-2, 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Penozza in view of Bregler et al. The rational for this combination is the same as for the earlier combinations.
